1. At a meeting of the Salvadoran Comité de Reorganización Obrera (CRO) on 2 January 1949 the new plan for syndical reorganization was announced and discussed.
2. Basically, the plan consists of setting up secret factory committees of four members in every factory. Where no union exists in a given factory, the committee will organize one. When a sufficient number of factory unions have been formed, the factory committees will try to organize a union of the whole industry. Factory committee members will always endeavor to have at least some of their number named as permanent delegates from the factory union to the central committee of the industry union.
3. Since the date when the National Constituent Assembly will convene has not been set, the CRO was undecided as to whether to proceed first with the syndical reorganization plan or to select candidates for the Assembly. No action was taken.
